

MICHELLE REYNOLDS BIOGRAPHY

Michelle Reynolds is a well credentialed Chief Executive Officer with extensive experience in government administration.

Her career spans more than 30 years over which she has worked in numerous WA Government agencies, departments and committees.

Ms Reynolds commenced as the Chief Executive Officer of Rottnest Island Authority in January 2017. Prior to this she had been the Chief Executive Officer of WorkCover WA since 2009.

Her experience extends to public administration and governance; emergency management, response and recovery; environmental land management; Aboriginal cultural heritage; infrastructure development; tourism and commercial partnerships. This experience and knowledge has provided her with a sound basis to manage one of Australia's national tourism icons, Rottnest Island/Wadjemup.

Recent roles include:

- Rottnest Island Authority – Executive Director (January 2017 – present)
- WorkCover WA – Chief Executive Officer (December 2008 – 2017)
- Department of Premier and Cabinet – Office of Science (May 2013 – September 2014)
- State Emergency Management Committee (Secondment July 2012 – December 2012)
- Department to Premier and Cabinet – Assistant Director General Public Sector Management Division (1994 – 2008)

Prior to this Michelle has also worked in WA Government organisations including Totalisator Agency Board, Crown Law Department, Department of Employment and Training and the Police Department.

She has also been a Chair or member of numerous committees including the Audit and Risk Committee – Department of Planning, Lands and Heritage, Chief Executive Women, Board member of WorkCover WA, Heads of Workers Compensation (national body) and member of the Premier and Cabinet Audi Committee (independent member).

Ms Reynolds has sound strategic planning and financial management skills, having operated in a purely commercial environment for the past 10 years.

She has a Bachelor of Arts (ECU) and a Master of Business Administration (UWA).
